The Truth of the Virgin Birth

In the December-January 2000 issue of Jerry Falwell's National Liberty Journal, which covers politics and social issues from an Evangelical viewpoint, a page-one article by Edward Hindson asks, "Does the Virgin Birth Really Matter?" Hindson, dean of the Institute of Biblical Studies at Falwell's Liberty University, says it does—and uses arguments that sound suspiciously Catholic.

Noting that the Virgin Birth has been called into question by modern scholars as well as the media (he cites Peter Jennings' recent television special, In Search of the Real Jesus), Hindson calls the doctrine "foundational to the New Testament theology of the person of Jesus Christ." He quotes Protestant author A. N. Lane that "the paucity of references in the New Testament is something given as an argument against the historicity of the doctrine." Yet, notes Hindson (echoing Lane), "in Scripture there is no evidence anywhere that biblical writers ever felt the need to question or defend the doctrine on the Virgin Birth.

"That Matthew, a Jewish believer, and Luke, a gentile convert, both refer to the Virgin Birth emphasizes its wide acceptance throughout the early church. [Hindson, an Evangelical, may be forgiven for not capitalizing church here.] Aside from the unsubstantiated theories of a few modern scholars, there is no evidence that this doctrine was ever in question, except among heretical fringe elements . . . who denied the whole idea of the Incarnation. There was remarkably unanimous acceptance of the validity of the Virgin Birth." Hindson then cites some familiar figures: Ignatius of Antioch, Irenaeus, Tatian, Clement of Alexandria, and Tertullian—Church Fathers one and all.

Which goes to show two things: many Christians share the Catholic belief in the doctrine of the Virgin Birth and that, when dealing with many non-Catholic Christians, appealing to the Fathers is a good apologetic strategy.

Youth Group

Letters to God: 5 Reasons to keep a journal
by JURELL SISON

#5 Write for your future Grandkids!

I have a distinct memory of being at my grandfather's funeral. We were surrounded by loved ones, picture boards, slideshows, and even poetry about the generous life that he lived. But even after all the stories, I wish I could have heard about his life first hand. I wish I could know the young disciple that he was.

It sounds silly but another reason I journal is for my future grandkids. I want them to know that I, like them, was a real person, with real struggles, challenges, and sometimes hopeless situations. But through it all, it was Christ who transformed my life into something worth living.

Spiritual journaling leaves a trace of our struggle to be holy. If we seek Christ worthily, our lives can blaze a pathway to Him and our written prayers can be a way for us to share in each other's journeys.

A Merry Christmas to our great Youth Group and all its members.

Always let us keep in mind the words of our Savior, born in Bethlehem, "Whatever you do to the least of my brothers and sisters, you do to me!"

Let's spend 2017 doing "good" for the least of our brothers and sisters!

Father Marty's Corner

Merry Christmas ! As we commemorate the solemnity of the Incarnation of Our Lord, I wish you all God's choice blessings as you celebrate with family and friends. I can't help but reflect on the fact that the primary reason we celebrate at this darkest time of the year is to remember the mystery of the birth of the Savior.

People are able to say "Happy Holidays" as much as they want. There would not be a holiday right now without Jesus. Let us be renewed as we celebrate the Word becoming flesh for our salvation. I share one of my favorite reflections for your edification...

One Solitary Life

He was born in an obscure village, the child of a peasant woman.
He grew up in still another village where he worked in a carpenter shop until he was thirty.
He did none of the things one usually associates with greatness.
He had no credentials but himself.
He was only thirty-three when the public opinion turned against him.
He was turned over to his enemies and was crucified.
When he was dead he was laid in a borrowed grave.
Twenty centuries have passed and today he is the central figure of the human race.
No one has affected the life of humanity on earth as much as that
ONE SOLITARY LIFE!
Be well. Love-- Father Marty

December 25th Christmas Day

Gospel of Luke 2: 1-14

In those days a decree went out from Caesar Augustus that the whole world should be enrolled. This was the first enrollment, when Quirinius was governor of Syria. So all went to be enrolled, each to his own town.

And Joseph too went up from Galilee from the town of Nazareth to Judea, to the city of David that is called Bethlehem, because he was of the house and family of David, to be enrolled with Mary, his betrothed, who was with child.

While they were there, the time came for her to have her child, and she gave birth to her firstborn son. She wrapped him in swaddling clothes and laid him in a manger, because there was no room for them in the inn.

Now there were shepherds in that region living in the fields and keeping the night watch over their flock. The angel of the Lord appeared to them and the glory of the Lord shone around them, and they were struck with great fear.

The angel said to them, "Do not be afraid; for behold, I proclaim to you good news of great joy that will be for all the people.

For today in the city of David a savior has been born for you who is Christ and Lord. And this will be a sign for you:

you will find an infant wrapped in swaddling clothes and lying in a manger."

And suddenly there was a multitude of the heavenly host with the angel, praising God and saying: "Glory to God in the highest and on earth peace to those on whom his favor rests."

What does Scripture say about Stewardship?

As each one has received a gift, use it to serve one another as good stewards of God's varied grace.
—1 Peter 4:10

You have been told, O man, what is good, and what the Lord requires of you: Only to do the right and to love goodness, and to walk humbly with your God.
—Micah 6:8

But seek first the kingdom of God and his righteousness and all these things will be given you besides.
—Matthew 6:33

Did you know?

Well, we do know there are four evangelists, the men who wrote the Gospels. Their names are Matthew, Mark, Luke and John. Many Catholics believe that they were all Apostles...no so. Mark and Luke are not named among the 12. Also, many believe or assume they were all Jewish...not so. Luke was a gentile and believed to be Greek. You can look it up!

QUESTION? The town of Bethlehem in Judea is also known as the City of "Who"....(hint,...he's a famous man from the Hebrew Scriptures).

Last Week's Answer: Who in Church History established the Season of Advent?

According to the Harper Collins Encyclopedia of Catholicism, edited by Richard P. McBrien, Gregory the Great, who died in 604, was the real architect of the Roman Advent. Gregory fixed the season at four weeks and composed seasonal prayers and antiphons. Gaul (France) enriched the season with eschatological elements. And the fusion of the Roman and Gallican observances returned to Rome by the 12th century.
